

FORESEE ADVANCE OF WEST IN SPITE OF RESIGNATION

European Diplomats Concede "Ike's" Change Will Cause Misgivings

NOTE THE REACTION

Prime Interest at U. N. Centers on Selection of Successor

By Pierre J. Huss
INS Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Apr. 12.—(INS)—European diplomats at the United Nations concede today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's resignation will cause misgivings but they agree the west will drive ahead with its defense program.

Prime interest at the U. N. centered on the selection of "Ike's" successor. European observers said that would be the key to eventual European reaction to the change in the European command. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway is looked upon as a man who would be welcomed with open arms in Europe.

Gen. Eisenhower's resignation from the North Atlantic treaty organization command is regarded by European diplomats to be less pleasing to the Soviet Union than might be supposed at first glance. They are convinced that "Ike" would have stayed at his post and sacrificed presidential aspirations if his departure from NATO at this stage would have jeopardized its existence.

In Paris, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky frequently took the opportunity to take cracks at Eisenhower in the U. N. Assembly, as he did at Ridgway too. Asked one time whether he'd vote for Eisenhower for president, he snapped back that he'd vote for "none" of them if he had the right to vote in the U. S.

CARPET CARE

Michael's Rug Cleaning, a personalized carpet service establishment, has been selected to use the new "Karpet-Kare" method for cleaning of carpets in Bristol and the lower end of Bucks county. Michael A. Cianciosi announced today, "Karpet-Kare," a liquid detergent for shampooing carpets, is a completely new method developed after years of laboratory research by the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Co., Inc. According to Mr. Cianciosi, it also "solves the old and troublesome problem of cleaning wall-to-wall carpets in homes, stores and offices without taking them up and sending them out to the cleaning plant." "This new method is soapless, and therefore does not leave any residue in the carpet to promote re-soiling," Mr. Cianciosi said. "In fact, the 'Karpet-Kare' method tends to retard soiling. 'Karpet-Kare' does not contain harmful alkalis and therefore cannot cause discoloration, or harm carpet wool fibers. There is no risk of mildew by this new method, and it is odorless. Furthermore, it eliminates risks of shrinkage."

Development Corp. Will Take Title To Church

MORRISVILLE, Apr. 12.—A recently formed corporation, The Morrisville Community Development Corp., will take title to the First Presbyterian Church and its adjacent property at Union street Apr. 15th.

The property, it is expected, will be developed for use as a commercial enterprise. Additional business facilities in Morrisville will thus be created, as well as a needed public parking area.

Officers of the group are Alfred O. Redland, president; Harry H. Lee, Jr., vice-president; Cyril Smith, secretary, and Paul Sullivan, treasurer.

Between 40 and 50 businessmen and interested citizens have participated in this purchase.

The board of directors are working on plans for the development of the parking yard, as well as renovation of the buildings. It is estimated that it will take approximately $100,000 to complete the job. Of this amount, nearly $60,000 has already been subscribed.

The preliminary plans now in work consist of leveling off and macadamizing the property, which is about 500 feet deep and 130 feet wide, and will provide parking for about 150 cars. Plans are also in progress to do preliminary work on the buildings. The decision of final interior work will be decided when prospective occupants are found and their particular needs decided upon, the corporation said.

FORMER WEIGHT LIMIT FOR BRIDGE RESTORED

Raising of Limit to 12 Tons in New Hope Area Will Relieve Congestion

HARD ON THE ROADS

NEW HOPE, Apr. 12.—Announcement has been made that the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission has restored the former weight limit of 12 tons for trucks on the New Hope-Lambertville bridge.

Two weeks ago the commission reduced the weight restriction from 12 to eight tons after a steel strut in the bridge snapped. The broken strut has been replaced.

Raising of the limit back to 12 tons will relieve heavy traffic congestion on the Stockton-Flemington Road, N. J. The eight-ton limitation forced trucks to detour through Stockton, N. J., and residents there protested against the resultant heavy volume of traffic. They insisted the roads in the area were not built to accommodate such heavy travel, and contended that the safety of children was endangered.

Music Educators Association and will participate in a concert the 170-piece state band will give at Reading on May 10.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Announcement was made of resignation of General Dwight D. Eisenhower as European defense chief, effective June 1st. The general plans to return home to personally battle contenders for the Republican presidential nomination.

Work was halted on erection of houses in the northeastern section of Philadelphia as a result of order by Walter S. Pytko, commissioner of licenses and inspections. Hundreds of houses were affected, they being in various stages of construction. The order denied building permits unless special provisions were made for handling sewage and surface drainage. Pytko stated many buildings have been going up illegally because builders did not bother to secure permits.

The initial break in the telephone strike which hampered long-distance and manual service in various parts of the nation, came when 18,000 employees settled their dispute with the Bell Telephone Co. of Michigan. This settlement was described by negotiators as possibly "setting the pattern" for ending similar disputes in Ohio, northern California and New Jersey.

United Steel workers (CIO) hinted they might try to force the government to impose on the Steel industry the 26c pay increase recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board.

PARTY'S GETTING ROUGH

Tension between the backers of Senator Taft and General Eisenhower, in the last week of the race for the Republican preference there has become greater in New Jersey than anywhere else to date.

Nearest approach was during the last week of the New Hampshire campaign, when Senator Taft began asking some penetrating questions about the position of the absent General on national issues, and drew an indignant drumfire of criticism from the General's chief supporters, including the Governor of the State.

In the New Jersey fight, neither Taft nor Eisenhower is on the scene—the General in Europe, Taft refusing to campaign personally because of what he feels is a breach of faith on the part of New Jersey's Governor Driscoll. Taft, in fact, tried strenuously to have his name taken off the ballot, but was unable to do so.

With the campaign in the hands of persons other than the candidates themselves, there is quite a bit of political infighting going on, on the air and in the newspaper columns. The Eisenhower backers, having the use of the Driscoll-headed statewide political machine, are in a position to play "sweetness and light" on the surface, and are saving their more personal attacks for the word of mouth end of the campaign. Taft has been called "a bad loser" many times because he complained of the treatment he received, and his veracity has been challenged more than once. As to the nature of the Taft campaign, it can quickly be pictured from sample quotations taken out of the text of some of the statewide advertising.

The pointblank accusation continues to be made that Governor Driscoll broke his word and played fast and loose in his dealings with Senator Taft.

Here are some lines from an advertisement signed by the "Citizens Committee, Chairman, Albert Blaze, Mt. Prospect, West Orange, N. J." and published this week:

"After Governor Driscoll had publicly announced that he would be neutral in the New Jersey Republican primaries and let the people of New Jersey pick a Republican candidate for president, he double-crossed the people of New Jersey and the candidates

EASTER

There are two worlds, one which derives its standards, morals and spiritual content from the teachings of Jesus and one which is trying to shape human-kind on the basis of a denial of all religion except obedience to a dictatorial and materialistic state.

The precepts swept the world like wildfire and for centuries most civilizations were based upon them, including that of Russia, which is now the seat of atheism. Dictators, realizing from historical experience that they could not force their materialistic programs on peoples touched by the philosophy of Jesus, have at last moved to banish that philosophy from the face of the earth by the persuasion of force.

But the philosophy persists. It stands before humankind sky high and will not be ignored. The philosophy is simply this: Peace on earth through love and brotherhood. There are no satisfactory substitutes, though kings and potentates have sought them in the realm of materialism.

They build armies, fleets and aerial armadas. They concoct the most dreadful explosives, fires, gases and germs, all conceived by hate and ambition, and designed to keep man in subjection and misery.

The results of the employment of these evidences of hate are ever more degrading to the human race. They hold out the promise of peace through conquest to the ear only to break it to the heart as peace retreats.

And always the message of Jesus remains, punctuated by the agony of the Cross and the triumph of the Resurrection, as a challenge to man to cast off the miseries of materialism and enjoy the fulfillment of Heaven's program. That challenge has confronted man for nearly 2000 centuries. And man ignores it at the cost of deeper involvement in despair.

MORE TV STATIONS

There are currently 104 television stations in the United States, with applications on file at Washington for permits to start 2,000 more. Construction of new TV stations has been frozen since 1948, but the bid is now to be removed.

Permits to construct new stations will be issued only after extended hearings and the unraveling of much federal red tape, so that few, if any, of the new stations to be authorized will be on the air this year.

But it is probable that within two years most metropolitan areas will be served by television, with fair reception available to nearly all areas of the country.

Experts say the left turn is the greatest menace to traffic. Or to government.

Medical scientists say this is the season of the year when human beings suffer from vernal hypertyria, Spring fever to you.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Lester E. Paul
Stated Supply Pastor
Newportville Presbyterian Church

Tomorrow is Easter. With the coming of that glorious day, we think of two things which Jesus showed to be superior.

"Life is superior to Death" is the prime assertion of Easter. "He is Risen." Death could not hold the Lord of Life. This fact was the source of the power of the earliest Christians, one of whom declared, "If we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him."

"Joy is superior to despair" is another Easter message, repeated over and over again. We see disheartened women suddenly turned into amazed but joyous bearers of the good news. We behold the heavy-laden spirits of His many followers throw off gloom and return to Jerusalem with great joy, being conscious in the temple praising and blessing God.

Easter rings an affirmative reply to a basic human question. "If a man die, shall he live again?"

“GRAND NATIONAL” IS TO OPEN ‘52 SEASON

LANGHORNE, Apr. 12 — Langhorne Speedway's world famous circular mile speedway, located along U. S. Highway No. 1, between Pennell and Trenton, will inaugurate the 1952 season of Grand National Circuit Championship racing with the running of the 150 mile Grand National, for late model stock sedans, on Sunday, May 4th. In making this announcement, promoters Irv Fried and Al Gerber made known the fact that this would be the first of several title events covering all phases of speedway competition scheduled for the Langhorne course.

Herb Thomas, tobacco growing farmer from Olivia, N. C., and winner of the 1951 National Championship, will lead a great delegation of NASCAR speedsters to the starting line in the grind. Thomas, by the way, happens to be the defending champion at Langhorne for he won the '51 event last September before the largest audience ever to view an event at the famous Bucks County racing strip.

In NASCAR Grand National circuit championships staged so far this season Thomas has won the title at North Wilkesboro, N. C., and placed second in the event at Jacksonville, Florida.

The Langhorne classic will be sanctioned by NASCAR, the largest racing organization in the country. Bill France, prexy of the racing body, has guaranteed Fried and Gerber the greatest field of late model stock car pilots ever assembled.

At this week's meeting of Bristol Acromodelers, members were informed by members of the club's contest committee that preliminary arrangements for the Bristol Flying Circus model plane meet May 30th are being rapidly completed.

This years contest is an open affair and all contestants are being invited. Several clubs from Long Island, N. Y., to Annapolis, Md., have expressed desire to participate. Age groups have been specially shifted in one of the events to include a special "novice" event for those under 12 years of age. Other groups nearby are planning similar affairs.

Gordon Groff, 15, exhibited a partially completed "Buccaneer" radio controlled model. A special frequency (27.255 Megacycles) has been granted for use in controlling models, and several members have started such projects. A regular license is not required by the FCC for this. It is a class "C" citizens radio license which can be obtained by filing a special form at the nearest F.C.C. office. (Customs House, Phila.). Model fliers desiring such forms may obtain them from Albert Abrams, 1031 Pond st.

Aviation films were shown.

bled will be on hand too hoping to snare the lion's share of the $5350 prize money. Late model events are the most popular in the racing sport. In view of the fact that all models compete in the grind the fans seem to have a stake in the outcome anxious to see which of the popular models will come out on top.

BRISTOL MOOSE BOWL IN STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Two Bristol teams of Moose members travelled to Bloomsburg last week-end, and competed in the 5th annual Moose Penna. tournament. They could not report any first place leadership. Most of the men found the "loose" alleys not to their liking, although Albert Boccardo bowled well enough to capture 4th place in the "all-events." He and "Andy" Moore stood in 12th place in the two-man event. "Bill" Wieser finished well up among the leaders in the singles competition.

BRISTOL MAJOR BOWLING LEAGUE

Parkway Inn bowlers led the Major League by five games on Monday. Auto Boys and Wetherill Lumber tied for second place.

NEWTOWN, Apr. 12 — W. W. Morris, of Columbus, O., a pioneer in driving education, demonstrated the stopping distance necessary at various car speeds in front of the senior high school for 11th and 12th grade students on Tuesday afternoon. The demonstrations were under the supervision of D. T. Saggola, who was assisted by Raymond Reed, Justice of the Peace, of Penns Park, and William Bird, of Yardley.

The program in assembly included a lecture on highway safety and films. The group was then taken on Chancellor street, where the car was used for the necessary stopping distances required at different speeds. Students were impressed with the necessity of requiring ample time and distance to stop a car on the highways.

These items were a memorial to Mrs. Mary Polst. The details of placing them were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace and sons, Mark and Robert.

by announcing a preference and whipping his machine into line.

This is a categorical repetition which Governor Driscoll has challenged several times, and in at least one instance succeeded in getting a prominent Republican speaker to withdraw from his address after it had been released to the press. Senator Taft charged substantially what the advertisement does in retiring from the New Jersey campaign.

Continuing, the advertisement brands Eisenhower as "the Democratic Party's candidate for the Republican nomination," and says that the Democrats favor him because they don't want the Republicans to nominate "the strongest possible candidate," meaning Taft, for whom the advertisement promises that he will "make a fighting campaign."

Much featured in the advertisement is a series of questions which the General is called upon to answer, relating to his position on the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, increasing or reducing social security benefits, continuing or reducing the current level of government spending, compulsory FEPC, the Truman-Acheson foreign large-scale spending program, and increasing, maintaining or reducing the taxes.

Despite the Taft camp's accusation that Driscoll is trying to steamroller an Eisenhower victory, or perhaps to try to discredit this attack, the Eisenhower publicity emphasizes the thought Eisenhower is "the people's" candidate. "This time YOU'RE the boss," the New Jersey for Eisenhower Committee tells the voters. "You'll choose . . . you do the picking . . . make your vote the most important vote in the nation today . . . It all depends on you."

There is, in fact, just a touch of humor in the mingling into a long list of peremptory instructions to the voters "(Go to the polls, get your friends to go, don't depend on anyone else, this is your job)" the remark to the reader that: "You're the boss!"

The outcome will be waited with interest. While Taft himself is taking no part, his friends in Jersey have been much stimulated by his recent parade of victories, and are hopeful of putting a crimp in what would otherwise be a walk-away for Eisenhower.

Whether they can do so remains to be seen next Tuesday.

European Diplomats Concede "Ike's" Change Will Cause Misgivings

NOTE THE REACTION

Prime Interest at U. N. Centers on Selection of Successor

By Pierre J. Huss

INS Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Apr. 12 — (INS) — European diplomats at the United Nations concede today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's resignation will cause misgivings but they agree the west will drive ahead with its defense program.

Prime interest at the U. N. centered on the selection of "Ike's" successor. European observers said that would be the key to eventual European reaction to the change in the European command. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway is looked upon as a man who would be welcomed with open arms in Europe.

Gen. Eisenhower's resignation from the North Atlantic treaty organization command is regarded by European diplomats to be less pleasing to the Soviet Union than might be supposed at first glance.

They are convinced that "Ike" would have stayed at his post and sacrificed presidential aspirations if his departure from NATO at this stage would have jeopardized its existence.

In Paris, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky frequently took the opportunity to take cracks at Eisenhower in the U. N. Assembly, as he did at Ridgway too. Asked one time whether he'd vote for Eisenhower for president, he snapped back that he'd vote for "none" of them if he had the right to vote in the U. S.

Fence Damage Totals $250; Parts of Car Discovered

Driver of the car crashing into the fence is unidentified.

Parts of a vehicle were discovered there this morning and it is believed the vehicle was considerably damaged. Investigation is being made by Bristol township police officers.

CARPET CARE

Michael's Rug Cleaning, a personalized carpet service establishment, has been selected to use the new "Karpel-Kare" method for cleaning of carpets in Bristol and the lower end of Bucks county. Michael A. Cianciosi announced today, "Karpel-Kare," a liquid detergent for shampooing carpets, is a completely new method developed after years of laboratory research by the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Co., Inc. According to Mr. Cianciosi, it also "solves the old and troublesome problem of cleaning wall-to-wall carpets in homes, stores and offices without taking them up and sending them out to the cleaning plant." "This new method is soapless, and therefore does not leave any residue in the carpet to promote re-soiling," Mr. Cianciosi said. "In fact, the 'Karpel-Kare' method tends to retard soiling. 'Karpel-Kare' does not contain harmful alkalis and therefore cannot cause discoloration, or harm carpet wool fibres. There is no risk of mildew by this new method, and it is odorless. Furthermore, it eliminates risks of shrinkage."

Development Corp. Will Take Title To Church

MORRISVILLE, Apr. 12 — A recently formed corporation, The Morrisville Community Development Corp., will take title to the First Presbyterian Church and its adjacent property at Union street Apr. 15th.

The property, it is expected, will be developed for use as a commercial enterprise. Additional business facilities in Morrisville will thus be created, as well as a needed public parking area.

Officers of the group are Alfred O. Redland, president; Harry H. Lee, Jr., vice-president; Cyril Smith, secretary, and Paul Sullivan, treasurer.

Between 40 and 50 businessmen and interested citizens have participated in this purchase.

The board of directors are working on plans for the development of the parking yard, as well as renovation of the buildings. It is estimated that it will take approximately $100,000 to complete the job. Of this amount, nearly $60,000 has already been subscribed.

The preliminary plans now in work consist of leveling off and macadamizing the property, which is about 500 feet deep and 130 feet wide, and will provide parking for about 150 cars. Plans are also in progress to do preliminary work on the buildings. The decision of final interior work will be decided when prospective occupants are found and their particular needs decided upon, the corporation said.

PARTY'S GETTING ROUGH

Tension between the backers of Senator Taft and General Eisenhower, in the last week of the race for the Republican preference there has become greater in New Jersey than anywhere else to date.

Nearest approach was during the last week of the New Hampshire campaign, when Senator Taft began asking some penetrating questions about the position of the absent General on national issues, and drew an indignant drumfire of criticism from the General's chief supporters, including the Governor of the State.

In the New Jersey fight, neither Taft nor Eisenhower is on the scene—the General in Europe, Taft refusing to campaign personally because of what he feels is a breach of faith on the part of New Jersey's Governor Driscoll. Taft, in fact, tried strenuously to have his name taken off the ballot, but was unable to do so.

With the campaign in the hands of persons other than the candidates themselves, there is quite a bit of political infighting going on, on the air and in the newspaper columns. The Eisenhower backers, having the use of the Driscoll-headed statewide political machine, are in a position to play "sweetness and light" on the surface, and are saving their more personal attacks for the word of mouth end of the campaign. Taft has been called "a bad loser" many times because he complained of the treatment he received, and his veracity has been challenged more than once.

As to the nature of the Taft campaign, it can quickly be pictured from sample quotations taken out of the text of some of the statewide advertising.

The pointblank accusation continues to be made that Governor Driscoll broke his word and played fast and loose in his dealings with Senator Taft.

Here are some lines from an advertisement signed by the "Citizens Committee, Chairman, Albert Blaze, Mt. Prospect, West Orange, N. J.," and published this week:

"After Governor Driscoll had publicly announced that he would be neutral in the New Jersey Republican primaries and let the people of New Jersey pick a Republican candidate for president, he double-crossed the people of New Jersey and the candidates

EASTER

There are two worlds, one which derives its standards, morals and spiritual content from the teachings of Jesus and one which is trying to shape humankind on the basis of a denial of all religion except obedience to a dictator and materialistic state.

The precepts swept the world like wildfire and for centuries most civilizations were based upon them, including that of Russia. Dictators, realizing from historical experience that they could not force their materialistic programs on peoples touched by the philosophy of Jesus, have at last moved to banish that philosophy from the face of the earth by the persuasion of force.

But the philosophy persists. It stands before humankind sky high and will not be ignored. The philosophy is simply this: Peace on earth through love and brotherhood. There are no satisfactory substitutes, though kings and potentates have sought them in the realm of materialism.

They build armies, fleets and aerial armadas. They concoct the most dreadful explosives, fires, gases and germs, all conceived by hate and ambition, and designed to keep man in subjection and misery.

The results of the employment of these evidences of hate are ever more degrading to the human race. They hold out the promise of peace through conquest to the ear only to break it to the heart as peace retreats.

And always the message of Jesus remains, punctuated by the agony of the Cross and the triumph of the Resurrection, as a challenge to man to cast off the miseries of materialism and enjoy the fulfillment of Heaven's program. That challenge has confronted man for nearly 20 centuries. And man ignores it at the cost of deeper involvement in despair.

MORE TV STATIONS

There are currently 104 television stations in the United States, with applications on file at Washington for permits to start 2,000 more. Construction of new TV stations has been frozen since 1948, but the lid is now to be removed.

Permits to construct new stations will be issued only after extended hearings and the unraveling of much federal red tape, so that few, if any, of the new stations to be authorized will be on the air this year.

But it is probable that within two years most metropolitan areas will be served by television, with fair reception available to nearly all areas of the country.

Experts say the left turn is the greatest menace to traffic. Or to government.

Medical scientists say this is the season of the year when human beings suffer from vernal hypperyxia, Spring fever to you.

"GRAND NATIONAL" IS TO OPEN '52 SEASON

LANGHORNE, Apr. 12 — Langhorne Speedway's world famous circular mile speedway, located along U. S. Highway No. 1, between Pennell and Trenton, will inaugurate the 1952 season of Grand National Circuit Championship racing with the running of the 150 mile Grand National, for late model stock sedans, on Sunday, May 4th. In making this announcement, promoters Irv Fried and Al Gerber made known the fact that this would be the first of several title events covering all phases of speed competition scheduled for the Langhorne course.

Herb Thomas, tobacco growing farmer from Olivia, N. C., and winner of the 1951 National Championship, will lead a great delegation of NASCAR speedsters to the starting line in the grind. Thomas, by the way, happens to be the defending champion at Langhorne for he won the '51 event last September before the largest audience ever to view an event at the famous Bucks County racing strip.

In NASCAR Grand National circuit championships staged so far this season Thomas has won the title at North Wilkesboro, N. C., and placed second in the event at Jacksonville, Florida.

The Langhorne classic will be sanctioned by NASCAR, the largest racing organization in the country. Bill France, prexy of the racing body, has guaranteed Fried and Gerber the greatest field of late model stock car pilots ever assembled.

bied will be on hand too hoping to snare the lion's share of the $350 prize money. Late model events are the most popular in the racing sport. In view of the fact that all models compete in the grind the fans seem to have a stake in the outcome anxious to see which of the popular models will come out on top.

BRISTOL MOOSE BOWL IN STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Two Bristol teams of Moose members travelled to Bloomsburg last week-end, and competed in the 5th annual Moose Penna. tournament. They could not report any first place leadership. Most of the men found the "loose" alleys not to their liking, although Albert Boccardo bowled well enough to capture 4th place in the "all-events." He and "Andy" Moore stood in 12th place in the two-man event. "Bill" Wichser finished well up among the leaders in the singles competition.

BRISTOL MAJOR BOWLING LEAGUE

Parkway Inn bowlers led the Major League by five games on Monday. Auto Boys and Wetherill Lumber tied for second place.

Preliminary Arrangements For Meet Near Completion

At this week's meeting of Bristol Aeromodelers, members were informed by members of the club's contest committee that preliminary arrangements for the Bristol Flying Circus model plane meet May 30th are being rapidly completed.

This years contest is an open affair and all contestants are being invited. Several clubs from Long Island, N. Y., to Annapolis, Md., have expressed desire to participate. Age groups have been specially shifted in one of the events to include a special "novice" event for those under 12 years of age. Other groups nearby are planning similar affairs.

Gordon Groff, 15, exhibited a partially completed "Buccaneer" radio controlled model. A special frequency (27.255 Megacycles) has been granted for use in controlling models, and several members have started such projects. A regular license is not required by the FCC for this. It is a class "C" citizens radio license which can be obtained by filing a special form at the nearest F.C.C. office. (Customs House, Phila.). Model fliers desiring such forms may obtain them from Albert Abrams, 1031 Pond st.

Aviation films were shown. The 18th of February, 1861, was the date on which Jefferson Davis was inaugurated as president of the Confederacy.

NEWTOWN, Apr. 12 — W. W. Morris, of Columbus, O., a pioneer in driving education, demonstrated the stopping distance necessary at various car speeds in front of the senior high school for 11th and 12th grade students on Tuesday afternoon. The demonstrations were under the supervision of D. T. Saggola, who was assisted by Raymond Reed, Justice of the Peace, of Penns Park, and William Bird, of Yardley.

The program in assembly included a lecture on highway safety and films. The group was then taken on Chancery street, where the car was used for the necessary stopping distances required at different speeds. Students were impressed with the necessity of requiring ample time and distance to stop a car on the highways.

POIST MEMORIAL

These items were a memorial to Mrs. Mary Poist. The details of placing them were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace and sons, Mark and Robert.

Party's Getting Rough

by announcing a preference and whipping his machine into line.

This is a categorical repetition which Governor Driscoll has challenged several times, and in at least one instance succeeded in getting a prominent Republican speaker to withdraw from his address after it had been released to the press. Senator Taft charged substantially what the advertisement does in retiring from the New Jersey campaign.

Continuing, the advertisement brands Eisenhower as "the Democratic Party's candidate for the Republican nomination," and says that the Democrats favor him because they don't want the Republicans to nominate "the strongest possible candidate," meaning Taft, for whom the advertisement promises that he will "make a fighting campaign."

Much featured in the advertisement is a series of questions which the General is called upon to answer, relating to his position on the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, increasing or reducing social security benefits, continuing or reducing the current level of government spending, compulsory FEPC, the Truman-Acheson foreign large-scale spending program, and increasing, maintaining or reducing the taxes.

Despite the Taft camp's accusation that Driscoll is trying to steamroller an Eisenhower victory, or perhaps to try to discredit this attack, the Eisenhower publicity emphasizes the thought Eisenhower is "the people's" candidate. "This time YOU'RE the boss," the New Jersey for Eisenhower Committee tells the voters. "You'll choose . . . you do the picking . . . make your vote the most important vote in the nation today . . . It all depends on you."

There is, in fact, just a touch of humor in the mingling into a long list of peremptory instructions to the voters "(Go to the polls, get your friends to go, don't depend on anyone else, this is your job)" the remark to the reader that: "You're the boss!"

The outcome will be waited with interest. While Taft himself is taking no part, his friends in Jersey have been much stimulated by his recent parade of victories, and are hopeful of putting a crimp in what would otherwise be a walk-away for Eisenhower.

Whether they can do so remains to be seen next Tuesday.
